

THE GAZETTE.

The bright sunlight of publicity is not a thing for which the present administration has a kindly feeling.

A paper devoted to the interests of the community is published at Janesville, Wis., with the title of the Modern Democrat. Ought not its subscribers to come from the ranks of those ready to be cremated?

The extensive and well known book firm of Janssen, McClurg & Co., of Chicago, has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Janssen has been compelled to retire from business on account of ill-health. The firm will hereafter be known as A. O. McClurg & Co.

A cablegram says that Gladstone's address to the House was "a masterpiece of ingenious untruthfulness." Henry A. Storer was once accused of using very immense words. He thought otherwise, however, and said he always tried to make his language "totally non-misunderstandable."

For the first time since 1784 Easter, this year falls on April 25, which is also St. Mark's day. There is a concurrent tradition that a late Easter makes a late spring; and the colored people of the south often say: "It's no use talking; there will be no good weather until after Easter."

An individual in the west, evidently possessing the ability of a statesman, suggests that the best way to unload the $100,000,000 of silver in the United States treasury, would be to give two dollars per head to every man, woman and child in the country. The Gazette does not hesitate to promise the support of every newspaper man to the project.

It is now said that Mr. Garland has made up his mind to give his telephone stock to some educational institution. But the point is could any institution of learning which has any regard for morals, accept $1,500,000 worth of stock which Garland got possession of in a dishonest manner? Mr. Garland can weave no garland for his brow by that kind of generosity.

It was estimated by the president of the Broadway surface railroad in New York that it would cost $100,000. Shortly before it was completed it was mortgaged for $1,000,000 and subsequently another mortgage was placed on the property for $1,000,000; $2,500,000 mortgages on a street railroad which was supposed to represent $100,000. Financiers would hardly recommend our people to make loans in the same ratio on the prospective city railroad in Janesville.

A New York correspondent makes an interesting disclosure by announcing that Senator Sawyer is to adopt a crest and that he has about decided on an "embattled saw log on an emerald pine forest, with a pair of engrafted bob sides on the dexter chevron." Of course it is all right for our venerable and highly esteemed senator to astonish the natives at Washington and New York with eccentricities of this kind; but if he should ever make his appearance within the corporate limits of Wisconsin accompanied by an embattled saw log and a pair of engrafted bob-sides, he would not unlikely fare as badly as the youth who once monkeyed with one of the senators' buzz saws at Oshkosh.

The attorneys on behalf of the United States who will conduct the suit against the Bell Telephone Company for the benefit of Garland, Lamar, General Johnston, Casey Young and others who compose the Pan-Electric Telephone Company, will be Solicitor General Goode, ex-Senator Thurman, Mr. Lowrey, of New York, an electrical specialist, Eppa Hunton and Jeff Chandler, of Washington. The disgust of the people generally at the unscrupulous monopoly known as the Bell Telephone Company, has much effect in lessening their indignation towards these persons high in authority, who as public men receive private checks for personal ends.

DEATH OF HORATIO SEYMOUR.

The Hon. Horatio Seymour died at Uxton, New York, at ten o'clock Friday night. His health had been impaired somewhat for several years by loss of appetite, indigestion and nervous prostration, but his condition was not thought to be critical until within two days of his death, as he had had several attacks of the late one, from which he recovered rapidly; but when a man reaches the age of seventy-six with his nervous system shattered, he can have but little hope in conquering such a disease as terminated the life of ex-Governor Seymour.

Mr. Seymour had been for many years one of the conspicuous political chameleons in this country. He entered the law when quite a young man, and was a successful practitioner for a while, but the death of his father and father-in-law left him a large fortune, and he soon abandoned the law and gave much of his time to the care of the large estates which fell to his charge. He early attached himself to the democratic party and took considerable interest in politics. He was five times nominated for governor of New York, and was elected twice—in 1852 and 1858. In 1861 he was president of the national democratic convention which met in Chicago, and his opposition to the prosecution of the war was well illustrated by a speech before that body from which the following is an extract:

This administration cannot now save this union if it would. It has, by its proclamations by vindictive legislation, by displays of hate and passion, placed obstacles in its own pathway which it cannot overcome and has hampered its own action by unconstitutional acts.

This shows that Mr. Seymour was a very poor prophet and an unsafe political leader. In 1868 he was the democratic candidate for the presidency, but was defeated by General Grant, receiving only 50 electoral votes out of 317. Since that time Mr. Seymour aspired to no political office. Much of his time was devoted to rural pursuits and to the enjoyment of his princely income. He was a man of the education and had all the accomplishments that make a true gentleman. His last days were spent at the home of his sister, the wife of Joseph Conkling.

THE TELEPHONE BUSINESS.

It is a favorite method with the partisans of the present administration to palliate the conduct of the present attorney general by insisting that his pan-electric stock was obtained before he assumed his present office. But it seems as though the confession that Mr. Garland obtained his stock when he was a United States senator is more fatal to his integrity than though it was obtained when he was attorney general. All patent laws are made by congress, and the frequent actions which have to be taken on those laws, and the vast interests which are often affected by their repeal or modification, indicate the importance which attaches to every vote which may be cast on the question. There is nothing in any of the reports from Washington which tend to show that Senator Garland was not the recipient of $1,500,000 stock of the pan-electric and collateral companies. The stock is almost precisely the same as when Blaine got the stock of the Little Rock and Memphis road—when it came into his possession there was no visible possibility of the affairs of that corporation ever coming before congress. There was the same possibility of prospective legislation affecting the pan-electric company in which Senator Garland was a stockholder as there was of the railroad corporation in which Blaine was a stockholder.

Can any one believe that a man's independence as a member of congress would not be influenced by his holding $1,500,000 worth of stock whose value might depend on his own vote?

The assents of the democratic orators and editors upon Mr. Blaine for being the owner of $400,000 railroad stock which was alleged to have been obtained in a questionable way, have never perhaps in the history of the world been equalled for venom and vindictiveness. In Mr. Garland's case, culpable for obtaining $1,500,000 railroad stock in a way at least equally questionable?

TWO SOUTHERN HEARTS THAT HAVE BEEN FIRED.

The southern heart beats amorously. Senator Jones of Florida has not been in his seat during the present session; and in consequence the other reverend senators do not have such frequent excuses to visit the restaurant as when the representative from the Sovereign state of Florida arises to address the senate with great frequency and at greater length on the provisions of the constitution. The reason of the senator's prolonged absence, is given to be the siege which he is laying to the citadel of the affections of a widow in Detroit. In fact there are said to be two widows and there is an uncertainty in the senator's mind regarding the situation and embarrassment and out of his senatorial chair. The apparently favored lady, however, is the daughter of Detroit. That this partnership would be advantageous in every way is plain when the facts are made manifest that the senator has nine children and no money, while the widow has no children and several millions of money.

And another southern senator is involved in toils which are more irksome to the other party than to himself. The fact, which must be disclosed in all its horrid actuality, is that Wade Hampton—ex-confederate general, ex-governor of South Carolina, at present a senator from that state, nearly seventy years of age, and having only one natural leg—is in love with Miss Rhea, the actress. And it is no ordinary spasm of evanescent affection; but rather it is the kind which leads him to hover about the door of the green house, to take the talented black-emerald to elaborate lunches, to look after her every want and to view the public good as second to her private happiness. But as in many another case, there appears to be no reciprocity; his affectionate ardor in vain seeks admission at the unopened portal of her adamantine heart. The enthusiastic devotion of the ancient general touches no responsive chord in the breast of the talented maiden; though he seems to be really in earnest, she does not readily acquiesce, in fact, she peremptorily rejects his further advances.

DEATH GATHERS THEM IN.

HORATIO SEYMOUR FOLLOWS THE "OLD, OLD FASHION."

And Another Prominent Figure in the Country's History Has Passed to the Silent Majority—His Death Hastened by Neglect of Time's Admonition.

Uxton, N. Y., Feb. 13.—Ex-Governor Seymour died at just 10 o'clock Friday night at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Joseph Conkling. He began to feel decidedly at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Shortly afterward, owing to stimulants, he rallied a little, but soon relapsed into total unconsciousness.

During his illness he has had little if any physical suffering, and Friday was wholly without pain. Mr. Seymour, who is very ill, sat with him during the afternoon. Most of the time the governor rested peacefully, and his condition could only be distinguished from natural sleep by the action of the laborer breathing. At 8:30 o'clock he was sinking rapidly; his pulse was scarcely to be counted, and the respiration was more and more difficult. He died without a struggle, and as peacefully as one falling asleep.

The immediate cause of his death was cerebral effusion, the usual process of death in old age. Those present when he passed away were Mrs. Seymour and her sister, Mrs. Nelson, of New Brunswick, N. J.; the governor's brother, John P. Seymour, of Uxton; his sisters, Mrs. Lincoln and Mrs. Conkling; Dr. W. B. Ford and Judge Bolger. As yet no arrangements have been made for the funeral.

It is stated that the complication of physical ailments which has finally resulted in Mr. Seymour's death originated with his being struck while at work on the roads of his own as publisher, which office, he was used to say, was the only one he had ever asked for. Mr. Seymour suffered from vertigo after the manner of Gen. Hancock, and never entirely regained his former strength. He declined to admit infirmity, and when pressed to labor on behalf of Mr. Tilden he did so beyond his strength, and seriously weakened his system. His convalescence from Hancock in 1880, made against his physician's orders, nearly completed the work of his health and closed his political labors. Mrs. Seymour's illness has later worried the ex-governor and hastened his decline. He seemed aware of approaching death for the past ten days, but said little on the subject.

Horatio Seymour was born in Pompey, Onondaga county, New York, May 21, 1810. He went to Uxton with his parents when he was 5 years old. His education was completed at the academies of Genesee and Uxton, N. Y., and at Harvard's military school in Andover, Conn. In 1831 he was admitted to the bar. From 1835 to 1839 he served on the military staff of Governor Marcy. In 1841 he was elected to state assembly, and in 1842, was re-elected three times and in 1845 chosen speaker. He was still a member, in 1848, he was elected mayor of Uxton for one year. He supported Lewis Cass for the presidency in 1852. In 1850 he was the democratic nominee for governor of New York and was defeated by Hunt, Whig, by a plurality of 22 votes. In 1853 he was elected governor by a plurality of 22 votes. He was re-elected in 1856, and in 1858 he was elected to the United States senate. In 1859 he was re-elected to the senate. In 1860 he was re-elected to the senate. SILVER WEDDING BELLS.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Ott Entertain a Large Number of Friends on their Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary.

Last evening, by special invitation, fifty or more ladies and gentlemen, intimate friends, assembled at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Ott, North Bluff street, second ward, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of their married life. On the 12th of February 1881, Mr. M. A. Ott and Miss Sarah E. Chaff were joined in marriage, the late Rev. Father J. M. Doyle officiating. Twenty-five fleeting years have passed, and we now find the same happy couple, surrounded by a quartet of children, two young men, a daughter just entering womanhood, and a younger son, circling around the ever happy friends. Ever residing among us, they have won the respect and confidence of a very large circle of friends, which was attested by the happy gathering of last evening. The groom of twenty-five years, with his eldest son, is now engaged in the harness business, and doing a good business. Among the tokens of respect left by friends as reminders of the happy anniversary, we notice: Set silver forks—Mrs. Knipp and Mrs. Bogh.

Jelly dish—Mrs. John Seibeker. Berry dish—Mr. and Mrs. French, Mr. and Mrs. John Slightman, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis, and Mrs. E. Zeisinger.

Sugar shovel—Mrs. Alex. Buchholz. Butter knife—Mrs. Scherer.

Silver envelope—Messrs Buchholz, Myers, Kneeb, and Ehringer.

Pair of slippers—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Murdoch.

Pickled dish—Mrs. Jessie Harris. Card receiver—Mrs. J. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Caniff, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Judd, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Huotier, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Sanoors and mother.

An elegant anniversary supper was served to the happy guests, and the time spent at feasting was one of great pleasure to all. The remainder of the evening was spent in social enjoyment, music and games, and finally as a late hour the guests renewed their congratulations, and returned to their homes, hoping to be present and celebrators in as happy a manner, the golden anniversary twenty-five years hence.

POLO.

The rigors defeated by a score or 1 to 0.

There was a fair attendance at the rink last night, although many were kept away by the rain. About nine o'clock Mr. J. B. Doe, Jr., stepped out upon the floor and calling Manager Valentine out, presented him, in behalf of the polo club, with a large photograph of the boys, elegantly framed. Play was commenced about half past nine, and after almost eleven minutes of play, Hanson made the first goal for the Janesvillians. When the whistle again sounded the rubbers started from their respective cages instead of pulling off. The Elgians, who up to this time had done fairly good work, now clustered around their goal and for the next eighteen minutes prevented any more points being made by the Janesvillians. The following is the summary:
